Highlights

The culture of the Midvale community has changed rather dramatically over the past 5 years. Factors such as student mobility rates as high as 30%, increasing numbers of emancipated secondary students, and a community changing from a local agriculture economy to a commuting work force has necessitated changes in the programs and services that we provide. Our focus continues to be on academic achievement with an increased emphasis toward dual enrollment opportunities for both college-bound and vocational students.

Some of our most noteworthy endeavors have been the expansion of dual-enrollment courses: math through the U of I, BYU literature, IDLA credit restoration, vocational agriculture, business, and residential construction through BSU, TVCC and CSI.
